COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The rate of payment of 1963 taxes has increased greatly this past week and the biggest collection days of the year will be the four and a half days after Christmas. Last year over 20% of the tax commitment was paid after Christmas and an equal or larger percentage should be paid after Dec. 25 this year.

Notice was received this past week from the State Department of Audit that the audit for the town of Bethel will begin the week of January 6, 1964. After the audit was completed this year I requested that the 1963 audit be started the week of Jan. 13, 1964. Apparently this was not possible so the books must be ready the first full week of the new year. There are a great number of things that must be done between the last day of the year and the start of the audit.

There was an article in the Lewiston paper this last week concerning a citizens' committee from Norway, Maine, that visited the Sanford sewage treatment lagoon. The article stated that all members of the committee were favorably impressed with the lagoon. Although this type of facility has not been used very much in New England, there were 430 in operation in the country in 1957 and there have been a large number constructed since then.

STATE POLICE GIVE WINTER DRIVING HINTS

The State Police pass along this winter driving advice—advice from the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards:

How to Get Started

"Car makes differ, so follow the manufacturer's manual for using the gas pedal and automatic choke in starting. The same goes for rocking your way out of deep snow."

"Start gently. Otherwise, you'll spin the wheels, melt the ice or snow and cut traction way down. To keep from over-powering, use the 'drive' range or second gear with a stick shift."

"Start with your front wheels straight ahead. If you can't, give the steering wheel a few turns back and forth to 'snow-plow' a path."

"Snow tires give you half again as much pulling power in snow as regular tires. Reinforced tire chains are up to four times more effective. On ice, snow tires also help, but chains, especially the reinforced type, give up to five times as much traction."

How to Keep Going

"Steering and adapting to conditions are the keys to safe movement on winter roads."

"STEERING — Steer with small adjustments, no sudden changes of direction. Anticipate, so you can make smooth, gradual movements. Be very careful not to oversteer. If you find your rear wheels slipping to the left, steer left a bit to the right, and just enough to straighten out. Get the 'feel' of the road. This means trying your steer-

BUCKS TO HAVE OPEN HOUSE ON ANNIVERSARY

LOCAL LEGION POST ERECTS SKATING RINK

On Sunday of last week a group of hardy members of the Munde-Allen Post, American Legion, braved the elements and set up the boards for a community skating rink. Gould Academy donated boards for the rink. The Legion has announced it will coordinate use of the rink with other community groups. Working on the project were, William G. Bickford, project chairman; Roderick McMillin, Pete Baker, Irving Brown, Post Commander Floyd Thurston, Ernest Angevine and Vice Commander Arnel Brown.

ing, acceleration and brakes—at low speed on a safe stretch of road. Keep the windshield clean, so you can see other cars and pedestrians. You must see danger to avoid it.

"ADAPTING TO CONDITIONS"

Learn temperature traps. Patches of ice linger on bridges, overpasses and in shady areas when other pavement is clear and dry. Sunny areas are more dangerous when most of the road is covered with ice and snow because melting 'wet' ice is more slippery. Posted speed limits are set for clear and dry conditions. Even half the posted speed may be dangerous in severe weather."

WEST PARIS SAILOR PROMOTED

Larry W. Baker, communications technician third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Arthur Baker of Route 1, West Paris, was promoted to his present rate Nov. 16 while serving at the Naval Activity, Kamiseya, Japan.

SEN. MUSKIE REPORTS

In this holiday season, as we look forward to the dawn of a new year, it is natural that we look back on the events of the past year. We search for lessons we can learn. We look forward to improve our performance as individuals and as a nation.

Our celebration this year, is shadowed by the assassination of President Kennedy. If the death of our President is to have a constructive meaning for us — for our country — we have an obligation to take a long, hard look at where we have come from and where we are headed. Our leader, a man of high ideals stood for constructive progress both at home and abroad. He had a keen sense of history. He saw the role of the United States as the leader of the free world, but even more, he clearly understood how our country evolved from 13 separate colonies of the British Empire to the strongest, wealthiest nation in the world.

If we are to learn any one lesson from the shining example of our late President, it would be to establish high goals for our country's future development. This is the same lesson that can be derived from a thorough study of the America of 1776. The means of our forefathers were limited but their aims, their aspirations were endless. Today our means are almost unlimited. We must establish national and international goals worthy of the means that are at our disposal.

This is a time for us Americans to examine our domestic problems, to review the problems of the free world. We must apply the democratic principles developed by our forefathers to today's problems with the same vision and courage they used when they wrote our Constitution.

President John F. Kennedy was concerned over the future of our country, the future of the free world. He was an idealist, a visionary. He saw clearly that if we Americans did not dream of a better future, the future would belong to those who do. He believed that our country should use its unlimited resources for the good of all mankind. He recognized that the future belonged to those who worked to shape it. He knew that if free men saw no visions of future progress, the great traditions embodied in our Constitution would be lost.

GIRL SCOUTS
The Bethel fourth grade and fifth grade Girl Scouts met on Tuesday, Dec. 17. We invited the sixth grade Girl Scouts to go Christmas caroling with us. stitution were in danger of vanishing from the earth.

In this Christmas season, at a time when men dream dreams and catch a glimpse of new life and hope, let us rededicate ourselves to these ideals which are the salvation of society and the sure source of strength for believers in freedom and understanding.

SCHOOL NEWS

The following poems were written by members of Mrs. Burgess' fifth grade.

'Specially Good On Christmas
Christmas time is a time for fun,
Lots of presents for everyone.
Everyone eats a mountain of food
And believe it or not, the children are good!

And I'll tell you a secret, the very odd cause

That they are good, (cause of Santa Claus!)

They know that Ol' Santa will bring them toys.

But only for 'specially good girls and boys.

But if they are bad and play lots of tricks;

They'll find in their stockings, not candy, but STICKS!!!

So that's why on Christmas, your clothes aren't in knots

'Cause the girls and boys are good.

Believe-It-Or-Not!!!

—Susan Hutchins

The Day Before Christmas

'Twas the day before Christmas

When all through the house,

People were busy

As busy as a mouse.

They were hanging their stockings

By the chimney with care.

And they hoped that that night

St. Nicholas would come there.

The children were hastily

Making their beds

While visions of candy

Danced through their heads.

When up on the roof

There arose such a clatter

Walker and Mrs. Timberlake took pictures of us filling the baskets for the Health Council.

—Reporter, Judy Merrill.

We sprang from our work
To see what was the matter.
When what to our wondering
Eyes did we see

But eight workmen fixing

Our chimney-ney!!!

And we all remembered

When we went to town

We asked to have our chimney

fixed

For Santa's trip down.

So back to work we went

All wearing a frown.

All that fuss and clatter

Just for Santa's trip down!!!

—Susan Hutchins

Christmas Feelings

How do you feel at Christmas time

Giving or taking

Or spending a dime.

Do you have the Christmas spirit

If you don't the only way

Is believing everyday

There's a spirit in the air

Of our maker from above

Spreading happiness, joy and love.

—Jody Packard

At Christmas

On Christmas Day look under the tree,

And oh my gosh what do you see!

There are lots of toys,

For good little boys.

And dolls with curls,

For good little girls.

A stuffed teddy bear maybe,

For a good little baby.

So for a dog that's good,

Give a bone like you should.

And for a good and pretty Mom,

A nice big box of brown poem poems.

And for a Pop that's really tops,

Give a bag of lemon drops.

And you must remember a pepper-

mint stick.

For your friend old "St. Nick."

GOULD ACADEMY

Gould 58-Gorham 56

Gould Academy made it three victories out of four starts in their pre-holiday games, by beating Gorham, N. H., 11-9 in a thriller 58-56. It was a close hard-fought battle with the lead changing hands many times each period. The Huskies were behind by seven points early in the final period but with Paul Imhof and Dave Brewster coming thru with some quick baskets Gould went into a four point lead 58-54 with only seven seconds to go. The visitors were allowed to dribble in for the last basket and the game was over. Les Stevens was the man that kept Gould in the game most of the way as he turned in a 19-point production. Dale Stevens produced 11 points and was top man in rebounding.

Ray Losier, visiting guard, starred for the New Hampshire team producing 23 points in a losing cause.

The Gould JV's lost 50-36.
